Cultivating professional women. Advancing agriculture.

Dear Potential Sponsor,

The University of Georgia Sigma Alpha Professional Agriculture Sorority is proud to host the UGA Sigma Alpha Swine Show on January 30th, at the Jackson County Agricultural Facility. Sigma Alpha is a national organization that promotes leadership and service in women pursuing careers in agriculture. Our sorority also hosts events such as “Ag Day at Tate” on campus, our official philanthropy is raising funds for Heifer International, and for the first time, is hosting the UGA Sigma Alpha Swine Show. While hesitant to plan a first-year show during the current state of the pandemic, we feel that it will provide a much-needed hands-on learning experience for children in middle through high school that they would not receive anywhere else.

To run a fun, well-organized, and beneficial show for Georgia 4-H and FFA members, we will require the time of all 35 of our active members outside of their classes, as well as ribbons, awards, and concessions. In total, we are expecting to invest more than $5000 in providing an exceptional experience to our showmen and spectators. These expenses include facilities, prizes, and a scholarship being awarded to the senior showmanship winner to encourage these youth in pursuing an educational path of their choosing. We are asking for your help and support to cover these costs and provide an outstanding event to the youth swine community. These exhibitors spend hours feeding, cleaning, clipping, and training their animals to prepare for show. We would like to be able to adequately recognize them for all this hard work through these awards while also having a fun, educational experience.

In addition to providing these benefits to our exhibitors, we would love to recognize our sponsors before, during, and after the event. To express our gratitude, a list of show sponsors will be provided to every exhibitor as well as displayed throughout the show for participants and visitors to see, and posted to our social media. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact us.
